

Regaining Our Right to Refuse Vaccinations

Importance:

- No one, including the government, has the right to insist that another person, or another person's child, be injected with anything.
- Without the right to refuse vaccinations, one cannot protect oneself and one's children from the known, and yet to be known, harm from vaccinations, including death.
- Medical mandates of any sort, including vaccine mandates, cannot exist in a free and ethical society.
- Vaccinations are not benign. They are invasive medical procedures. Each and every one has the potential to injure, make chronically ill, permanently disable, and kill. The risks increase when they are given together, as is routinely done, beginning in utero, then continued during infancy, toddlerhood, throughout childhood, and now into adulthood. Today's American child will receive 74 vaccines from gestation through age 18, with more vaccine recommendations/mandates likely to be added with each passing year. The majority of those will be given before age 6, during the most vulnerable and prime time of the child's development. Substitute the word "drugs" for "vaccines", and then ask what parent would want their child to receive scores of drugs, beginning in utero, then continued at regular and frequent intervals throughout childhood...drugs which then lead to more drugs, due to resultant ear infections, asthma, allergies, type 1 diabetes, seizure disorders, attention issues, GI issues, skin problems, paralysis, POTS, ovarian and fertility problems, cancer, and more.
- Vaccines contain ingredients that are known and admitted to be unsafe for humans. These include: mercury, aluminum, formaldehyde, polysorbate 80, phenol, MSG, sodium borate, antibiotics, viruses and retroviruses of both human and animal origin, aborted fetal material from human babies, food proteins (injected vs. ingested), glass shards/particles, lead, stainless steel, tungsten, HCG, egg and yeast proteins, glyphosate, and more. Furthermore, vaccines contain ingredients that are not required to be listed on their ingredient labels, so neither those administering vaccines nor those receiving them can fully or accurately know what is being injected. Additionally, recent studies performed in Italy have revealed that vaccines contain nanoparticles and nanocontaminants which are not listed on the ingredients lists. These are ingredients for which the human body has no use, and which it may not be able to expel.
- The listing above includes ingredients that are classified as poisons, carcinogens, toxins, neurotoxins, immune-and-nervous-system disruptors, allergens, fertility inhibitors, and sterilizing agents. They are known and admitted to cause and/or purposefully induce both toxicity and inflammation, which are known drivers of chronic illnesses, autoimmune issues, learning and developmental disabilities, infertility, premature deaths, and sudden deaths.
- One vaccine ingredient, thimerosal, is known and admitted to be so dangerous to human health that it has been banned from topical use. Unbelievably, however, it is still permitted to be included in vaccines, which are far more dangerous as they are injected.
- Another ingredient, aluminum, is present in vaccines in amounts that greatly exceed the maximum allowable amount for intravenous feeding. For but one example, the amount of aluminum in the 8 doses of vaccines recommended for a 2-month old baby is 1,225 mcg. Compare that to the maximum allowable amount of aluminum per day for intravenous feeding in children, which is 25 mcg. One must ask how and why vaccines containing dangerously high amounts of aluminum are legal, much less approved, recommended, and mandated.
- Yet another ingredient, polysorbate 80, an emulsifier, is specifically included to help other ingredients pass through both cell walls and the blood brain barrier. Cell walls and the BBB exist specifically to prevent that which is harmful from entering. Polysorbate 80 is also a suspected carcinogen and is known to negatively impact reproductive organs and fertility.

- It is important to note that if any of the categories of ingredients listed above (known poisons, carcinogens, toxins, neurotoxins, sterilizing agents, etc.) were to be injected into another person by anyone other than a doctor, nurse, or pharmacist, that person would face criminal charges.
- Vaccines are known by pharmaceutical companies to be so extremely dangerous, to the point of being deadly, that they go to extreme measures to hide their dangers, including separating lots so that “hot lots” (lots that cause more than the accepted and expected levels of harm and death) cannot be easily identified, or identified at all. No other drug is permitted to be shipped in separated lots. This is telling, and damning, in and of itself, and it most certainly is not ethical or acceptable.
- It is also likely that vaccine makers know their products are carcinogenic, mutagenic, and that they impair/destroy fertility. We can be quite sure of this because they purposefully do not test any of their vaccine products for carcinogenic effects, mutagenic effects, or impairment of fertility. Equally disturbing is the fact that the FDA does not require that vaccine products be tested in these three areas before approving them.
- Vaccine manufacturers are permitted by the FDA to do their own safety and efficacy testing. Their test results are not required to be verified by an independent entity that does not stand to profit or benefit in any way from the vaccine being tested. Vaccine manufacturers do not use placebos for controls. They do not always have a control group. They do not necessarily test the age group for whom the vaccine will be targeted. They select only healthy test subjects, despite the fact that vaccines are recommended and mandated for all, healthy or otherwise. Testing periods are as short as 4 days long, despite it being known and admitted by the government and its regulatory agencies that many vaccine-induced injuries and deaths take more than 4 days to manifest, including weeks, months, and even years. For controls, they use other vaccines, reaction-causing adjuvants, or a combination of vaccines and adjuvants, versus inert placebos. When the vaccine being tested causes no more harm or deaths than the “control” used, which also causes harm and deaths, the vaccine manufacturer declares it to be safe. The FDA accepts the fraudulent declaration, then approves the improperly-tested vaccine, with zero regard for the harm and deaths they know the vaccine will cause.
- Not only are vaccines not tested according to the scientific gold standard on an individual basis (i.e. a double-blind, placebo-controlled study, conducted for a long enough time period to capture both short and long term adverse events), they are also not tested properly when administered in the many and varied combinations in which they are routinely given. That is akin to giving multiple prescription drugs at once, up to 13 as is done at some “catch up” vaccine appointments for infants, toddlers, and young children, with no regard for their interactions.
- For decades (one could argue since the beginning of time), it has been common sense and common practice to protect pregnant women from anything that might harm them or their fetuses during pregnancy, including pharmaceuticals, toxins, and poisons. Yet, pregnant women are now told/coerced to permit four vaccines during their pregnancies (tetanus, diphtheria, pertussis, and influenza). These vaccines contain mercury, aluminum, formaldehyde, viruses and retroviruses, foreign DNA, antibiotics, and more, all of which are harmful, sometimes fatal, to a developing fetus. None of these four vaccines has ever been tested for use on pregnant women. Rather, they are recklessly recommended with no valid science, and with known dangers.
- Clearly, with such improper testing, unethical approving, and long lists of ingredients that have no business being injected into any person of any age, much less one in the prime of their development, vaccine-induced injuries, chronic illnesses, developmental and learning disabilities, sudden deaths, seizure disorders, encephalitis followed by encephalopathy (commonly misnamed autism), infertility, cancers, heart conditions, hearing and vision loss, skin problems, GI issues, and blood disorders, to name a few, are common, and are by no means rare as is so often declared. Yet, those who administer vaccines are not required to report vaccine-induced injuries, illnesses, and deaths, nor are they required to immediately stop administering any vaccine products which have harmed or killed their patients.

- False claims about the safety, efficacy, and necessity of vaccines are made everyday, by pharmaceutical companies, doctors and nurses, the media, legislators, and government regulators, without penalty. This is not so for other products, for which people and entities making false claims are regularly sued, fined, fired, and legally penalized. Vaccines have been granted a special status which forbids scrutiny, criticism, recalls, and moratoriums. Granting them such special status gravely endangers all of us.
- Vaccine mandates violate our U.S. Constitution on many counts. They violate our God-given right to self autonomy and bodily integrity, which includes the fundamental human right to decide what one allows, or doesn't allow, into oneself and one's children. Vaccine mandates also violate many international codes of ethics to which the U.S. is a signer, including the Nuremberg Code, the Helsinki Declaration, and most recently, the 2005 Declaration on Bioethics and Human Rights at the UNESCO Convention. The human right to self autonomy and bodily integrity is arguably the most meaningful right we have, and vaccine mandates obliterate it.
- Exercising this God-given, fundamental human right should involve nothing other than a simple "no thank you" when one wants to refuse one, some, or all vaccinations for oneself or one's children. It is critically important to remember that informed consent requires a formal opting in, never a formal opting out. Opting in must always be voluntary, and without any government interference, coercion, cost, or penalty. To quote the Nuremberg Code, the voluntary consent of the human subject is absolutely essential.
- Vaccine mandates result in the government restricting and prohibiting law-abiding citizens and their children from participating in society due to their refusal to submit to one, some, or scores of invasive, risk-laden, potentially-fatal, improperly-tested, unethically-approved medical procedures, for which no one who makes or administers them is legally, financially, or criminally liable.
- Lastly, it cannot be overlooked that hurting babies and children has been legalized in the form of vaccinating. Painful jabs, beginning on the day of birth, and continuing at regular and frequent intervals throughout infancy, toddlerhood, and childhood, often requiring the manhandling and holding down by brute force of those too small and too young to defend themselves, is barbaric. Furthermore, such practices cause dangerous stress responses, resulting in downstream consequences for which there are male- and female-specific adverse effects. To state it very plainly, vaccination is child abuse in the form of medical assault and battery. With regard to adults, when vaccination is carried out against one's will or wishes, say for school admittance, job requirements, elder care and housing, or military admission, or when carried out with one who is hesitant, or with one who is unsuccessful in resisting and refusing, it also meets the legal definition for assault and battery. We must begin to label these vaccine atrocities for what they are: blatant and inexcusable child abuse; medical assault and battery; and when death is the result, involuntary manslaughter.

Solutions:

- Determine whether we attack this problem at the state level or at the federal level. If at the state level, we must eliminate and forever ban vaccine mandates in all 50 states. If at the federal level, an amendment to the Constitution may be needed, banning medical mandates of any sort nationwide, including vaccine mandates. Such an amendment may need to have both a prohibitive measure (medical mandates forbidden, including in times declared as "outbreaks", "pandemics", and/or "national emergencies") and a guarantee measure (individuals and parents have the full and unfettered right to make any and all medical decisions for themselves and their children without any government interference, coercion, cost, or penalty).
- Clearly establish that parents and legal guardians are solely responsible for all medical/vaccination decisions for minors, defined as those 0-17 years of age, no exceptions. Prohibit vaccination decisions to be made by minors. Reinstate that parents and legal guardians, not minors, are to be given access to, and copies of when requested, their children's medical records.

- Redefine quarantine as the maximum infringement the government can impose on any citizen with regard to transmissible diseases. Such quarantine would need to be narrowly defined so as to protect from government overreach and abuse. Home quarantine would need to be the first and most-protected option. Transmissible diseases would need to be clearly defined, to prevent quarantine from being wrongly and needlessly implemented.
- Establish clearly-defined penalties for those who use, or seek to use, government interference, coercion, cost, or penalty of any sort for those who exercise their right to make their own medical decisions, and those of their children. Such penalties would apply to legislators, medical professionals, school board members, and to all.
- Make it a criminal offense to approve, recommend, market, and administer medical treatments and procedures that have not been tested properly or ethically. Proper testing includes studies being performed in accordance with the scientific gold standard of double-blind, placebo-controlled studies, the prior, voluntary, and fully informed consent of the study subjects or their parents, the use of test and control groups that reflect the populations for whom the product is aimed, sufficient time periods so that both short and long term effects will have time to manifest and become evident, and a detailed plan of how the product will be surveilled post-marketing. Ethical testing necessitates that studies not only be performed according to the proper methods above, but that it also be performed by an independent entity that does not stand to profit in any way from the product.
- Make it a criminal offense to ship vaccine products in separated lots.
- Make it a criminal offense for pharmaceutical companies, the front groups they fund, and trade industry groups to financially contribute to the campaigns of legislators, and/or to lobby prospective and/or current legislators with any type of financial incentives or perks. There is no justifiable rationale for any of the above.

Timeline for solutions:

Immediate.

Many citizens are currently being harmed by the implementation of vaccine mandates and vaccine requirements. Immediate remedies are needed, for both parents and individuals.

Written by:

Laura Hayes
 Parent of a severely and permanently vaccine-injured young adult son, age 25
 Stanford Class of 1987
 Writer for the Age of Autism blog (<https://www.ageofautism.com/exclusives.html>)
 WAPF Honorary Board Member
 National Speaker (links to 2 of my comprehensive vaccine-related presentations below)
 Longtime Member of the original FEAT (Families for Early Autism Treatment)
 Co-Founding Family of the MIND Institute at UC Davis
 Program Manager for her son's ABA program since 1996

Presentations:

Vaccines: What Is There to Be 'Pro' About?

<https://www.ageofautism.com/2016/12/vaccines-what-is-there-to-be-pro-about-laura-hayes-to-weston-a-price-foundation-conference.html>

Why Is This Legal? by Laura Hayes

<https://www.ageofautism.com/2018/11/why-is-this-legal-presentation-on-vaccines-by-laura-hayes.html>